

Prayer for the young and our families with Kateri

Oh, most humble Kateri

I seek your love and prayers

I turn to you for your inspiration.

May I know the power of humility, the strength of seeking God's will in everything I do this day.

the compassion to care this way for those who are weak and in need of help, and the faith to forgive those who walk an hurtful violent path.

Pray with me Kateri that through us, God our Creator

Will comfort the orphan, watch over the neglected child,

And wait with the youth who go astray.

You lost your parents and found others along the way to care for you and guide you, May all

Parents and grandparents stay healthy, seek the selfless love of Jesus and give where giving is most needed.

May they make wise decisions and heed daily the Wisdom of the Great Spirit.

Your spirit was strong and your love for Jesus is deep I trust that Christ will turn my weakness.

Into His strength and meekness, so that whatever comes to me this day, I may choose to do God's will and faithful will I stay. AMEN

14th Sunday in Ordinary Time We believe all creation is holy and has a sacramental capacity to “speak” of God. It follows that prophets, vehicles of God’s self-revelation past and present, would be respectfully received and embraced as mediators between humanity and divinity.

Today’s readings remind us, though, that prophets are not always welcomed. Mark’s story of Jesus teaching in the synagogue presents a curious situation. Though his listeners are initially astounded by his wisdom and deeds, doubt soon creeps into their hearts. Suspicion leads to rejection and to a dismissive unbelief that amazes even Jesus.

He is not heard. A poor itinerant preacher, a teacher without formal training or credentials, a carpenter, familiar and ordinary he is judged to be unqualified to offer spiritual insight.

Mark’s Gospel invites us to reflect on the voices we hear and those that exclude. As part of an institutional Church that has been shaped by centuries of patriarchy, clericalism, colonialism, can we hear God’s call to justice, reconciliation and transformation in the voices of the ordinary, the powerless, the rejected- the poor, women peoples, Indigenous peoples those among us who once were found unworthy? May we be prophets in our home towns.
